

Agenda

→ Async / Await

Async await is a modern JS syntax feature that simplifies writing logic for async code, making it more readable and easier to debug.

async function foo { ... }

Note :- Async functions will return a promise. Automatically, wrapping the value if the return was a non-promise value.

Await :- It will only be used in conjunction with async keyword. We can write the await keyword in front of a promise and it handles it.